National Glass Association Appoints Andrew Haring as Vice President of Business Development

Vienna, Va. (Sept. 24, 2018)—The National Glass Association (NGA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Andrew Haring as vice president of business development. Haring will be responsible for identifying and executing new opportunities to further the Association’s mission. He will work closely with staff in the areas of the education, publications, events, membership and advocacy to develop strategic initiatives to grow the association.

Andrew has been in the glass and glazing industry for nearly a decade, serving in several roles at C.R. Laurence Co. (CRL), including architectural business development and most recently as vice president of marketing. His prior experience includes branding, design, and project management at JB3D Inc., and advertising/marketing for KTG Y Group Architecture & Planning.

“Andrew has long been a valuable industry partner for many of us at NGA in the years he worked at CRL, so this is a natural and welcome transition we’re all excited about,” said Nicole Harris, NGA president & CEO. “His experience in architectural glass, paired with his enthusiasm and track record of advocating on behalf of our industry, will accelerate the association’s mission of creating one stronger, unified voice for the glass and glazing industry.”

ABOUT NGA

Founded in 1948, the National Glass Association (NGA), www.glass.org, combined with the Glass Association of North America (GANA), www.glasswebsite.com on February 1, 2018 to form the largest trade association serving the architectural glass and metals industry supply chain, including glazing contractors, full-service glass companies, glass fabricators, primary glass manufacturers and suppliers to the industry. It is a technical powerhouse that brings some of the best minds to the table to create technical resources and promote and advocate for glass in buildings. NGA’s education and training programs—both online at MyGlassClass.com and in-person at association-sponsored events—and its official publication Glass Magazine, keep the industry knowledgeable and well-informed. NGA also produces the industry’s largest annual trade show in the Americas, GlassBuild America, and hosts the Building Envelope Contractors Conference, the Glazing Executives Forum and other educational and networking events, bringing together thousands of industry professionals to help them build more profitable businesses.
